

NORMAN E. MACK ABOUT TO QUIT AS STATE CHAIRMAN

Buffalo Editor Thinks National Chairmanship Gives Him
Enough to Do.

ROGER SULLIVAN HERE.

Starts a Boom for Chicago as Place for Holding National Convention.

Norman E. Mack, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, arrived in New York today, accompanied by his secretary, James Whitcomb Kelly. Mr. Mack wasn't in a talkative mood, but did say the Democrats would carry the State and nation this year.

Mr. Mack would not discuss the prospects of New York City landing the Democratic National Convention. His own city, Buffalo, has been making a fight for it, and had legislation passed last year so that its armories could be used for convention purposes. Its citizens started in to raise a purse to tempt the Democrats. And aside from that, Mr. Mack is said to favor either St. Louis or Baltimore.

During his stay in this city Mr. Mack will be at the Hotel Knickerbocker, whose proprietor, James B. Regan, is among the most active in trying to land the convention for New York.

Mr. Mack is urging the leaders of the Democratic party to select a new chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

With a National campaign coming on and with a monthly magazine, a weekly and a daily newspaper to attract attention, Mr. Mack believes some one else should take over the State campaign.

WHY CONNERS WAS MADE
STATE CHAIRMAN.

Mr. Mack's friends say it was never intended for him to do any hard work for the State Committee. Charles F. Murphy and a few other notables on the committee elected him to even things up with William J. Conners, for saying some of the Tammany Supreme Court Judges had to pay for their nominations. They first made Mr. Conners publicly admit he talked a little too much, and they also made him step down and out as chairman of the State Committee. But they figured that Mr. Conners saved himself considerable humiliation by telling all his friends and having his two newspapers in Buffalo print the story that he was voluntarily retiring and that he wouldn't consent to a re-election.

After all that the bosses thought it might get under Mr. Conners' political skin if they elected Mr. Mack—who runs an opposition newspaper in Buffalo—to Conners' old job as chairman. It is also said that Mr. Mack wasn't disinclined to help along this revenge on Conners.

But Mr. Mack has had the State chairmanship long enough now, and he isn't very anxious about his successor may be. A lot of Democrats have been mentioned for the place, including Tammany Commissioner Herbert P. Bliss.

sell of Chautauque County, and Thomas P. Heffernan.
Other Democratic national committee-men are in New York to-day. Among them is Roger P. Sullivan of Chicago, who has had clashes with William Jennings Bryan.
Those who are seeking the National Convention for New York did not receive much encouragement from Mr. Sullivan. The Illinois national committee-man is fostering a little boom for his home city. Sullivan says that Baltimore and St. Louis will have to give way to Chicago.
Mr. Mack and the visiting committee-men will remain in New York until the end of the week, when they will go to Washington to attend the national committee meeting.
